North Carolina National Guard Joins NCHSAA As Partner

CHAPEL HILL — The North Carolina National Guard has joined the North Carolina High School Athletic as a sponsor honoring high school athletes who achieve academic excellence, the NCHSAA has announced.

The North Carolina National Guard will be sponsoring the Association’s popular Scholar-Athlete program, according to North Carolina High School Athletic Association commissioner Davis Whitfield.

The program awards North Carolina high school athletes who display exemplary academic performance.

“We are excited to have the National Guard on board as part of the Association’s corporate partner family,” said Whitfield. “It is an organization that promotes leadership, which is in line with the core values and beliefs of the NCHSAA. We look forward to a long and mutually beneficial relationship.”

Individual Scholar-Athletes attain at least a 3.5 grade point average for the semester in which he or she competed. The award is based on first semester grades for fall and winter sports and second semester grades for spring sports, and the school submits the nomination form verifying the grade point average on behalf of the athlete or team.

In the team division, a varsity team earns Scholar-Athlete recognition by attaining a 3.1 aggregate GPA for that designated semester. The school receives a certificate honoring the accomplishment and each member of the squad also receives a certificate.

The teams with the top GPAs in the state in their respective sports are recognized at the NCHSAA Annual Meeting in May and will receive a plaque from the North Carolina National Guard and NCHSAA.

About the North Carolina Army National Guard

The North Carolina National Guard’s roots date back to March 24, 1663, when colonial militias—made up of ordinary citizens—would put down their plows and pick up their weapons to protect families and towns from hostile attacks. Today, Citizen-Soldiers hold civilian jobs or attend college while training part time, staying ready to defend America in the event of an emergency.

The North Carolina National Guard serves both state and federal governments. The difference between the Guard and other military branches is that while Guard units are combat-trained and can be deployed overseas, they are just as likely to serve in their home communities here in North Carolina—training just one weekend per month, and one two-week period each year. The incredible versatility of the National Guard enables its troops to respond to domestic emergencies, combat missions, counterdrug efforts, reconstruction missions and more—all with equal speed, strength and efficiency.

Whether the call is coming from the state Governor or directly from the President of the United States, North Carolina Guard Soldiers are always ready and always there.

2014-15 Soccer Rules Changes Include Requirement For Goalkeepers To Leave Field When Apparently Injured

INDIANAPOLIS—The National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS) Soccer Rules Committee approved two rules changes during its January meeting in Indianapolis. The recommended rules changes were subsequently approved by the NFHS Board of Directors.

The committee approved a requirement that a goalkeeper must leave the field when he/she is injured and the referee has stopped the clock. This decision was made in order to minimize the risk of further injury.

Previously, an injured field player was required to leave the field of play when the referee stopped the clock, but an injured goalkeeper was not. Now, according to Rule 3-3-2, both the field player and goalkeeper must leave the field. Additionally, the goalkeeper must be replaced by either a field player or a substitute.

“The committee wanted to make sure that players who were apparently injured were evaluated by a coach or an appropriate health-care professional,” said Mark Koski, NFHS director of sports, events and development and liaison to the Soccer Rules Committee. “The overriding concern is minimizing risk to all students.”

Another rule change approved by the committee was to clarify when the jurisdiction of officials begins. It will now begin at the time of their arrival to the field of play and its immediate surroundings, and they are prepared to begin their official responsibilities.

“The original intent was to establish a minimum arrival time for the officiating crew and not to place a limit on the start of their jurisdiction,” Koski said. “Jurisdiction for officials now begins at the time of their arrival and when they are in their true role.”

Previously, the jurisdiction of officials began 15 minutes prior to the start of the game, but teams and officials are often on the field prior to that and this change allows referees to begin official responsibilities earlier.

“The committee feels that the state of high school soccer is at a good place,” Koski said. “They are comfortable with where the game is at right now and do not think that a lot of changes need to be made.”

In addition to the official rules changes, the committee added a sample of the duties for a fourth official.

“A fourth official is being utilized in many states, especially at playoff and championship games. There have been numerous requests from state associations to provide fourth official duties,” Koski said. “The committee has elected to add sample fourth official duties that may be adopted by the state associations, but are not mandatory.”

A complete listing of all rules changes is available on the NFHS Web site at www.nfhs.org. Click on “Athletic Activities” in the sidebar menu on the home page, and select “Soccer.”

According to the 2012-13 NFHS High School Athletics Participation Survey, soccer is the fourth-most popular girls program with 371,532 participants, and fifth among boys with 410,982 participants. ★
NCHSAA 100th Celebration Ends With Gala

CARY—The 100th anniversary celebration of the North Carolina High School Athletic Association officially came to an end at the Embassy Suites in Cary as the NCHSAA hosted a black-tie gala.

The gala, attended by over 700 guests, celebrated the 100 years of the NCHSAA and culminated the centennial year, which has included a variety of special events. The theme for the centennial was “Honoring the Past, Embracing the Present and Shaping the Future” and occurred during the calendar year of 2013, meaning that it covered two different academic years.

During the course of the celebration, a special committee put together “100 To Remember” lists that were released at various times. The lists cited 100 administrators, 100 coaches, 100 female athletes and 100 male athletes who have been part of the NCHSAA program throughout its history.

Individuals who made one of the “100 to Remember” lists were among those invited to the gala, and those who attended were recognized during the course of the evening. They each were presented a commemorative medallion and then received a special 100th anniversary watch on stage from commissioner Davis Whitfield.

Whitfield officially welcomed the group at the beginning of the festivities and then later concluded the celebration with a special toast.

During the course of the gala, selected award recipients were interviewed on stage by master of ceremonies Rick Strunk, the associate commissioner of communications for the NCHSAA. For instance, the male athletes interviewed included former major league baseball player Scott Bankhead (Reidsville), former college football star Carlester Crumpler (Wilson Fike), former collegiate basketball standout, coach and administrator Terry Holland (Clinton), and former college and NBA star David Thompson (Crest).

NCHSAA media partner TimeWarner Cable was on hand throughout the course of the evening, interviewing many of those in attendance and providing the feed for the video screens for the crowd in the ballroom.

Among other activities during the previous 12 months, there was a luncheon honoring athletic directors at the North Carolina Athletic Directors Conference and one for coaches at the North Carolina Coaches Association clinic. State championship teams enjoyed reunions and were recognized at state championships throughout the calendar year of 2013.

There was a community service component, as schools had the opportunity to participate in the “Football Feeding Frenzy” during the fall, with top schools in the project receiving special recognition at the state football championships.

“It was a wonderful night of celebration for the NCHSAA,” said commissioner Davis Whitfield.

North Carolina Teams Sweep Carolinas All-Star Classic Games

MYRTLE BEACH, SC—The North Carolina teams swept both ends of the Carolinas All-Star Basketball Classic doubleheader against their counterparts from South Carolina.

The North Carolina all-stars had no trouble in the women's game, rolling to a whopping 103-61 victory with five players scoring in double figures.

Paris Kea of Greensboro Page was the North Carolina Most Valuable Player, as the Vanderbilt signee led the winners with 28 points. Jamie Cherry of West Craven, who will be attending the University of North Carolina, added 21.

Jazmine Jones of West Forsyth added 13 for North Carolina while Mike Absher of Davie was the men's head coach, assisted by Steve Robinson of Wallace-Rose Hill. The 17th annual all-star games were played at Socastee High School, while the dunk and slam-dunk contests were held the day before the games at Myrtle Beach.

CHAPEL HILL—The North Carolina High School Athletic Association Board of Directors completed its winter Board meeting at the NCHSAA offices.

The Board did approve a seeding process for all 64-team bracketed sports for the 2014-15 academic year, which will provide some consistency across those sports. Football seeding will remain different from other sports.

Among the other major items approved by the Board:

—Recommended clarifying language on eight-quarter rule for football, noting that it is for ninth and 10th graders only
—Eliminated rule limiting student-athletes to two all-star football and basketball contests during school year; rule had been based on NCAA rule which is no longer in force.
—Adjustment in men's tennis calendar to avoid facility conflict. Finals now will be Thursday and Friday, May 8-9, 2014; in addition, adjusted dual team tennis calendar from May 12 and 14, to May 13 and 15 for appropriate rounds.
—Adjustment in indoor track calendar for 2013-14 season, to approve one championship on Friday and two on Saturday since a classification is being added according to terms of the NCHSAA regulations. Dates are now February 7-8, 2014.
—Adjustment in 2014 lacrosse playoff calendar due to 4-A satisfying numbers to have its own men's championship, with additional round for 4-A men.
—Approved a number of editorial changes in language in Handbook for various regulations, mostly for clarification
—Approved playoff calendar for 2014-15
—Approved 2013-14 annual budget
—Rules clinic attendance for head coaches: if requirement for attending clinic is not met prior to first play date in the sport, coach will not be allowed to coach in contests until he or she is compliant, absent showing cause as currently occurs.
—Approved applying the same number restrictions (one less than a team) for coaches coaching an outside team in season as is applied to coaching a team outside the sports season but during the school year. Effective August 2014.

—Approved penalty for schools not paying their catastrophic insurance by start of fall playoffs and membership dues by start of winter playoffs. If not compliant by this time, all teams at said school will be ineligible for the playoffs. Does not replace $100 fine for late submission.
—Approved both the incident and penalty report and ejection report
—Approved that schools pay officials in accordance with local fiscal policy, rather than regional supervisors paying officials; currently a small percentage of regional supervisors pay their officials and 88 percent of schools currently pay officials. With RefPay through Arbiter or other on-line pay services, schools can set up payment to officials and not have to produce checks and there is also a financial savings for schools
—Require all NCHSAA coaches to take NFHS Fundamentals of Coaching course for certification with effective date August 1, 2015; currently non-faculty coaches and new hires are required to take it, and over 7,000 have already taken it in North Carolina.
—Require all NCHSAA coaches to take “NFHS Concussion In Sports—What You Need to Know” course as a minimum, which is free. Some counties already have their own concussion-related sessions, which could meet the requirement
—Require that any head or assistant coach ejected from a contest to take “NFHS Teaching and Modeling Behavior” course before coaching the next contest, effective July 1, 2014
—In men's golf, change current reporting/scoring to five golfers, with best four scores counting. Currently it is six scores, with four counting.
—Require using a playoff assignment formula to assign officials for regional supervisors and local officiating associations similar to football and basketball.

A couple of proposals were tabled, including a stroke average standard for regional qualifiers in men's golf; a season limitation in games/matches in volleyball, dual team tennis and dual team wrestling; and a “mercy rule” in football, a point differential where the game would automatically resort to a running clock unless terminated by mutual agreement.

NCHSAA commissioner Davis Whitfield said, “We had a number of issues to address and our Board worked hard to determine what was in the best interest of our membership.” ★

“Targeting” Defined In High School Football In Effort To Reduce Risk Of Injury To Participants

INDIANAPOLIS—In an effort to reduce contact above the shoulders and lessen the risk of injury in high school football, the National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS) Football Rules Committee developed a definition for “targeting,” which will be penalized as illegal personal contact.

The definition of targeting and its related penalty were two of 10 rules changes approved by the rules committee at its January meeting in Indianapolis. All rules changes were subsequently approved by the NFHS Board of Directors.

Effective with the 2014 high school season, new Rule 2-43 will read as follows: “Targeting is an act of taking aim and initiating contact to an opponent above the shoulders with the helmet, forearm, hand, fist, elbow or shoulders.”

Bob Colgate, NFHS director of sports and sports medicine and liaison to the Football Rules Committee, said the committee determined— in its continued effort to minimize risk of injury in high school football—that it was important to separate and draw specific attention to this illegal act.

“Taking aim with the helmet, forearm, hand, fist, elbow or shoulders to initiate contact above the shoulders, which goes beyond making a legal tackle, a legal block or playing the ball, will be prohibited,” Colgate said.

A new definition for a “defenseless player” was also added to Rule 2 for risk-minimization purposes. Rule 2-32-16 will read as follows: “A defenseless player is a player who, because of his physical position and focus of concentration, is especially vulnerable to injury.”

In an effort to reduce the risk of injury on kickoffs, the rules committee approved two new requirements in Rule 6-1-3 for the kicking team. First, at least four members of the kicking team must be on each side of the kicker, and, second, other than the kicker, no members of the kicking team may be more than five yards behind the kicking team’s free-kick line.

Rule 6-1-3 also notes that if one player is more than five yards behind the restraining line and any other player kicks the ball, it is a foul. In addition to balancing the kicking team’s formation, the change limits the maximum distance of the run-up for the kicking team.

“The Football Rules Committee’s actions this year reinforce a continued emphasis on minimizing risk within all phases of the game,” said Brad Garrett, assistant executive director of the Oregon School Activities Association and chair of the Football Rules Committee.

In other changes, new language was added to Rule 8-5-1 and states that “the accidental touching of a loose ball by a player who was blocked into the ball is ignored and does not constitute a new force.” In addition, roughing the passer fouls now include all illegal personal contact fouls listed in Rule 9-4-3, which result in automatic first down in addition to a 15-yard penalty.

The remaining changes approved by the Football Rules Committee are as follows:

Rule 1-1-7: Provides state associations authority to require game officials to be on the field more than 30 minutes prior to game time.

Rule 2-24-9: The intent of an illegal kick was clarified. Now, when an illegal kick occurs, the loose ball retains the same status that it had prior to the illegal kick.

Rules 3-3-3 and 3-3-4: With this change, in order to extend or not extend a period with an untimed down, time must expire during the down.

Football is the No. 1 participatory sport for boys at the high school level with 1,115,208 participants in the 2012-13 school year, according to the High School Athletics Participation Survey conducted by the NFHS through its member state associations. In addition, the survey indicated there were 1,660 girls who played football in 2012-13. ★

South Carolina Nips North Carolina In Shrine Bowl Football

SPARTANBURG, SC—South Carolina scored the winning touchdown with just 16 seconds to go to lift the South Carolina all-stars to a 28-23 victory over their counterparts from North Carolina in the 77th annual Shrine Bowl of the Carolinas at Gibbs Stadium at Wofford College.

Charlotte Catholic standout Elijah Hood, who has committed to the University of North Carolina, led his team with three second-half touchdowns, rushing for 99 yards in 23 carries and earning the North Carolina offensive Most Valuable Player award.

West Mecklenburg quarterback Jalen McClendon completed 16 of 26 passes for the North Carolina squad for 164 yards. Burton Cates of Lee Senior served as the North Carolina head coach.

South Carolina had jumped to an early 14-0 lead and held that margin at the half before the Tar Heel team overtook the Sandlappers. North Carolina led 23-21 with 1:54 to go, with Hood barreling over on a scoring run from the six-yard line, before South Carolina rallied at the end.

South Carolina won for the second year in a row and leads the all-time series 44-29-4.

Schools Earn Commissioner’s Cup For Community Service Project

CHAPEL HILL—Several schools were recognized during the North Carolina High School Athletic Association state football championships for their community service activity.

As part of the centennial celebration of the NCHSAA, the Association joined forces this fall with the North Carolina Association of Feeding America Food Banks to help reduce hunger in North Carolina. Member schools were encouraged to get involved in a campaign to raise donations for local food banks.

Schools could donate time to local food banks or raise money. Schools in each of the classifications volunteering the most service hours or money (based on the percentage of students to volunteer hour or to funds raised) were recognized. Winners received the Commissioner’s Cup for their efforts.

The schools winning the Commissioner’s Cup included Kernersville Bishop McGuinness and Albemarle in 1-A, Carrboro and Hertford County among the 2-A schools, and Northern Nash in the 3-A classification. There was no 4-A school recognized.

NCHSAA commissioner Davis Whitfield said, “As part of our 100th year celebration, we wanted to provide member schools with an opportunity to give back to their communities, which have supported them and their athletic programs. These award recipients have worked hard and we wanted to recognize them for their tremendous efforts.” ★

THE VISION for the NCHSAA is that it will be the national model for developing and inspiring greatness through interscholastic athletic experiences.
NCADA Concludes Conference With NCHSAA Involvement

ASHEVILLE—The North Carolina Athletic Directors Association concluded another very successful state conference late in March at the Omni Grove Park Inn, and a number of members of the North Carolina High School Athletic Association staff were involved in the conference.

This cooperation is just one of several examples of the great relationship between the two organizations.

NCHSAA Commissioner Davis Whitfield was the culminating speaker at the conference, outlining some issues both in the state and nationally that would be of interest to school athletic directors.

NCHSAA New Design For Web Site Functioning Well

The new design for the North Carolina High School Athletic Association web site has been well received by member schools.

Schools have come to rely upon the NCHSAA website as a primary source of information. With that in mind, the NCHSAA worked with a nationally known web design firm, DesignHammer, for about a year on an overhaul of the NCHSAA website. Feedback from a special committee made up of representatives of our member schools was also utilized.

The new design, which is much cleaner and more intuitive, still contains all the information NCHSAA member schools have come to rely on but is much simpler to navigate. There is a tremendously enhanced search function and an interactive school map that can help provide directions to any member school. The scrolling ticker of scores, utilized for NCHSAA playoffs, will be expanded to use regular season scores, pulling from live updates from MaxPreps.

The new website utilizes responsive design, optimizing it for most web-browsing platforms and viewing contexts, so users of the website will have easy access from most smartphones, desktops, tablets or laptops.

The new design was launched live in late February. As is the case with any new web site launch, there were minor glitches and some information that didn't originally migrate to the new site, but when those have been pointed out adjustments have been made.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact assistant director Quanta Holden at 919-240-7368 or at quanta@nchsaa.org. He has worked very closely with DesignHammer on this entire project and should be able to assist.

2014 Volleyball Rules Changes Include Clarification Of School Logo To Solid-Colored Jersey Sleeve

INDIANAPOLIS—The NFHS Volleyball Rules Committee approved four rules changes during its January meeting in Indianapolis. The recommended rules changes were subsequently approved by the NFHS Board of Directors.

With a mind toward school spirit, the committee approved the addition of a school name or mascot reference to be placed on the sleeve(s) of solid-colored jerseys, providing it appears in either 4-by-4 inch or 3-by-5 inch space. The solid-colored jersey, as specified in Rule 4-2-2 Note, is required in 2016 but is currently permitted.

"Schools are wanting to put a mascot or [the high school's abbreviation] on the sleeves of the solid-colored jerseys," said Becky Oakes, NFHS director of sports and liaison to the Volleyball Rules Committee. "The committee thought 'how do we allow them to promote school spirit and team unity, but yet preserve the integrity of the solid color and not make a change that becomes more restrictive?' Now, [it is allowable] to have a 4x4 or 3x5 [logo] on the sleeve."

Another rule change approved by the committee was clarifying the responsibility of the second referee to whistle and signal out of bounds for an antenna fault on his or her side of the net.

This change provides clarification that if the ball is going out of bounds over the antenna on the side of the second referee, he or she is in a better position to look up and make that call better than the first referee," Oakes said. "Now, by rule, the second referee can and should make that call."

The other changes include a whistle by the second referee to end a time-out if the audio signal has not sounded and both teams are ready to play prior to the end of the 60-second time-out, and allowing the line judge—if requested by the first referee—to be positioned to the side and in line with the extension of the end line for servers on the left side of the court. This positioning allows the line judge a clear view of any line violations for which he or she is responsible before moving back into position following the contact of the ball for serve.

A complete listing of all rules changes is available on the NFHS Web site at www.nfhs.org. Click on “Athletic Activities” in the sidebar menu on the home page, and select “Volleyball.”

According to the 2012-13 NFHS High School Athletics Participation Survey, volleyball is the third-most popular girls program with 470,561 boys and girls participants nationwide.
North Carolina’s Gentry Among National Federation Coaches Being Honored

INDIANAPOLIS—A total of 21 high school coaches from across the country, including one from North Carolina, have been selected as 2013 National Coaches of the Year by the National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS) Coaches Association.

David Gentry, long-time head football coach at Murphy High School, was named the recipient of the national award in football. He has coached for 42 years, 30 at Murphy, and his teams have won six NCHSAA state championships.

The NFHS, which has been recognizing coaches through an awards program since 1982, honors coaches in the top 10 girls sports and top 10 boys sports (by participation numbers), and in one “other” sport that is not included in the top 10 listings. The NFHS also recognizes a Spirit coach as a separate award category. Winners of NFHS awards must be active coaches during the year for which they receive their award. This year’s awards recognize coaches for the 2012-13 school year.

The NFHS has a contact person in each state who is responsible for selecting deserving coach award recipients. This contact person often works with the state coaches’ association in his or her respective state. He or she contacts the potential state award recipients to complete a coach profile form that requests information regarding the coach’s record, membership in and affiliation with coaching and other professional organizations, involvement with other school and community activities and programs, and coaching philosophy.

To be approved as an award recipient and considered for sectional and national coach of the year consideration, this profile form must be completed by the coach or designee and then approved by the executive director (or designee) of the state athletic/activities association.

The next award level after state coach of the year is sectional coach of the year. The NFHS is divided into eight geographical sections, with North Carolina in Section 3 along with Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina and Tennessee.

The NFHS Coaches Association has an advisory committee, composed of a chair and eight sectional representatives. The sectional committee representatives evaluate the state award recipients from the states in their respective sections and select the best candidates for the sectional award in each sport category. The NFHS Coaches Association Advisory Committee then considers the sectional candidates in each sport, ranks them according to a point system, and determines a national winner for each of the 20 sport categories, the spirit category and one “other” category.

A total of 515 coaches will be recognized this year with state, sectional and national awards.

Carolina Panthers Award Uniform Grants To High School Programs

CHARLOTTE—The Carolina Panthers are pleased to award 16 uniform grants to high school football programs throughout the Carolinas, six of which are going to North Carolina High School Athletic Association member schools.

The uniform grants consist of actual game-worn and practice-worn uniforms, straight off the backs of the pros! This unique equipment grant is a great opportunity for high school football players to be a pro on and off the field.

“Reidsville High School has a great tradition in football. This is my 23rd season as head coach at Reidsville and we’ve been hit hard financially,” stated Jim Teague, head football coach at Reidsville.

“This grant helps allocate needed funds elsewhere and greatly helps our program and our players. “Farmville Central High School’s head football coach Scott Gardner stated, “Many of my players are big Carolina Panthers fans; this is great that they are able to say they wore what their favorite player wore. Farmville has a great history of football and is in the running for a state title next year, this just gives us the boost we need to make that happen.”

The Carolina Panthers are thrilled to provide this opportunity to schools in our region, especially when the need for resources is at a premium, but adequate funding may be a challenge,” said Peter Vacho, Carolina Panthers Military & Football Outreach Manager. “Having the basic necessities such as practice gear can go a long way in helping school athletic departments make ends meet.”
