

2017-2021 Realignment

Models and Selection Process

Purpose

- * The NCHSAA Board of Directors will decide the final 2017-2021 realignment model at the 2015 Spring Board Meeting
- * 3 models will be presented at the meeting
- * Each model has been provided for your review and viewing
- * After viewing each model, please click on the survey link on the final page to choose the model your school would like to see used during realignment. The Board of Directors is interested in receiving feedback from ALL schools

Keep in mind that the conference alignments shown in this presentation are used for illustrative purposes only.

Realignment Process 2017-21

REALIGNMENT PROCESS AND PROCEDURE (2017-21)

Subject to change by the NCHSAA Board of Directors at the appropriate time

1. Realignment of schools into conferences will be done every four years, with the alignment process taking place in the third year of the current realignment, according to NCHSAA by laws. The next alignment is for the period 2017-21.
2. The Realignment Committee will include an overall chairperson, an Eastern co-chair, a Western co-chair, and eight superintendents representing each of the eight regions. The membership has the opportunity to nominate additional members of the committee (one per region), at balloting during the appropriate NCHSAA Regional Meeting. Also represented on the committee will be the state Department of Public Instruction, the North Carolina Coaches Association, the North Carolina Athletic Directors Association and the North Carolina Schools Boards Association. Each of those organizations will select their representatives to the committee.
3. Members of the committee will be confirmed prior to the beginning of the realignment process.
4. Realignment will be done into four classifications. Classification will be for all sports (could change by Board action if football only conferences done). Schools will play in classification.
5. Classification is to be guided, but not bound, by the Average Daily Membership figures averaging the daily membership in grades nine through 12 for the first month, as submitted to the state Department of Public Instruction. Non-boarding parochial schools and other special circumstances (schools run by Bureau of Indian Affairs, etc) will submit their numbers directly to the NCHSAA since they do not submit to DPI.
6. Schools will submit a Declaration of Intent form to the NCHSAA by the appropriate deadline, outlining their desire to participate in realignment, if they are seeking conference affiliation, and what other schools (see examples below) may be part of their realignment numbers.
7. Schools must note adjustments in their ADMs due to special circumstances on the Declaration of Intent form, which must be submitted by the designated process.
 - if there are early college or middle college students that would be assigned to a school, but go to those schools that have no athletic program; their numbers should be included with the school's numbers since they can be eligible to participate at the base school; those situations should be identified on the Declaration
 - if there separate schools (based on Gates money, for instance) that all play together for the purposes of athletics, such as Big City High School School of Technology, Big City High School School of the Arts, etc; they may have separate school numbers but still field one athletic team; those situations should be identified on the Declaration.
 - if there are special programs housed at the school which should not count toward the ADM but those students will be in the numbers; those situations should be identified on the Declaration.
8. Schools that have not yet opened but will be included in realignment as member schools must submit their projected ADM, as well as the impact it may have on existing schools. The superintendent or his/her designee in the LEA customarily submits the information, and it is certified by their Board of Education.
9. Use numbers provided by DPI for the first month of the appropriate school year. When classifying schools projected to open in the first year of realignment, enrollment will be established using projections provided by the LEA, superintendent and certified by the Board of Education. For schools with special circumstances (schools within a school, middle colleges, early colleges, Gates Foundation money, etc), those separate "schools" are combined together when they are playing under one name for athletic purposes and don't have their own separate athletic programs.

Realignment Process 2017-21

10. Schools will NOT be listed in order from largest to smallest in initial posting, since numbers could change. Information from the Declarations of Intent as well as new school projections are added to the list of schools and numbers adjusted as appropriate. Schools are encouraged to check their numbers for accuracy.

11. Following the appropriate deadline after figures are posted, the figures are set and final; schools will then be listed largest to smallest and divided into four groups for classification purposes, based on 25% of the schools per classification (see below for explanation— unless this is changed by Board action). After this deadline, there is no change made in either the numbers or where the lines are drawn, even if numbers change or schools are no longer part of the process for whatever reason.

12. Process for dividing the schools in classifications (this could be changed by Board action if there is a different method for dividing the schools):

--the entire membership is considered, even those who will have independent status in the realignment according to the submitted Declarations of Intent. The member schools are divided by four, with an effort to have four equal classifications. If the divided number is a fraction, half or more is rounded up (for instance, 400 schools would have 100 in each class; 390 schools divided by four would be 97.5, rounded up to 98).

--the lines are drawn from the top down, so the process starts with the largest school and works down to the dividing line, then the next class, etc. If the dividing line comes between two schools with the exact same ADM, those schools will all be placed in the higher classification. So in the example above, four classifications with 400 schools would be 100 each, unless there is a dividing line between schools of the same ADM. In the example with 390 schools, the dividing lines would be drawn 98, 98, 98 and 96, unless there is a dividing line between schools of the same ADM and those schools will be placed in the higher classification.

13. No three-classification split conferences will be permitted. There must be at least two schools of a particular class in a split and it is highly recommended that there be at least three.

14. Draft(s) of conferences will be prepared for consideration by the membership. After classifications are established, ADM figures are not considered when putting together the conferences within a classification.

15. Drafts of the initial plan(s) will be distributed to member schools by posting on the NCHSAA web site.

16. Schools are required to attend either the East or West realignment meetings to react to preliminary plans.

By the appropriate deadline before those meetings, schools should submit in writing to the NCHSAA concerns or adjustments desired in preliminary plans, so they may be collected prior to East and West meetings, to the designated staff person. Any requests, concerns, or suggestions must be put in writing and sent to the appropriate staff person's attention. This includes suggestions for conference affiliations or agreements among schools that have agreed to be in a conference together, etc.

If a school submits suggestions that affect other schools, it should always let those affected schools know of their inclusion in an alternative plan, even if it will be discussed at one of the regional meetings.

17. After the regional meetings, the realignment committee meets to review alternative proposals from the membership and then another draft is distributed to schools for review.

18. Schools must respond with concerns or suggestions to the new draft by the appropriate deadline.

19. After that deadline, the Realignment Committee meets and finalizes conferences.

20. April 1 of the realignment year is the customary deadline for appeals based on procedural errors. These must be received in writing at NCHSAA by this date.

21. During the May Board Meeting of the realignment year, the NCHSAA Board of Directors considers procedural appeals after it has received the recommendation of the realignment plan from the Realignment Committee. The Board then finalizes realignment.

Realignment Process 2017-21

22. The NCHSAA Board of Directors reserves the right to place a school up or down in cases where the realignment committee believes there is an extreme geographic hardship and there is no negative affect on other schools. If request is approved, the committee has the right to recommend to the Board of Directors appropriate restrictions for the school(s) involved.

23. Schools have a chance to meet after the realignment has been finalized, during the fourth year of the current plan, to have structures, conference by laws, appropriate schedules, etc, in place when the realignment four-year period actually begins.

24. In August of the appropriate academic year, the new realignment begins with schools in those conferences and classifications.

TIMELINE

- Draft of the initial plan will be distributed to member schools. It will be posted first on the NCHSAA web site.
- January 2016 –Schools are required to attend either the East or West meeting to react to preliminary plan. Specific dates below for meetings are tentative.
 - Jan. 8, 2016 -- deadline for schools to submit in writing concerns or adjustments desired in preliminary plan, so they may be collected prior to East and West meetings. An NCHSAA staff person may be designated to coordinate paperwork from the schools. Any requests, concerns, or suggestions must be put in writing and sent to the staff person's attention. This includes suggestions for conference affiliations or agreements among schools that have agreed to be in a conference together, etc.
 - Western meeting TBD
 - Eastern meeting TBD
- February 10, 2016 - Realignment committee meets to review alternative proposals from membership - 2nd draft is distributed to schools for review.
- March 1, 2016 -- Deadline for schools to respond with concerns or suggestions to 2nd draft.
- March 16, 2016 – Realignment Committee meets and finalizes conferences.
- April 1, 2016 - Deadline for appeals based on procedural errors. Must be received in writing at NCHSAA by this date.
- April 13, 2016—Final appeals to Realignment Committee.
- May 2016 - NCHSAA Board of Directors considers appeals - finalizes alignment.
- August, 2017- New alignment begins.
